READING WEEK Thirty-Two STRATEGY

Parents: Interactive read aloud. Conduct a read aloud with your child using interactive hand signals. Praise your child for using their hand signals to respond. For example, “Tap your shoulder if you think the character is changing throughout the story (dynamic character), tap your knee if you think character is staying the same (static character)”.

Students: Grab a group of friends. Pass out 5 sticky notes. Ask each person to write down their favorite memory. Pass around the notes so everyone can read each other’s stories.
